DETAILED ACTION

The indication of the allowability of claim 29 in previous office action has been withdrawn in light of a new ground of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 29 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Paul Kohl et al. "Water-Level Packaging Addresses... Interconnections", Apr '01 in combination with Paul Kohl et al. "Air-Gap ... for Interconnections" 1998.

With respect to claim 30, Kohl et al. of "Wafer-Level Packaging Addresses ... Interconnections" teach a structure for providing resilient interconnections in a wafer level package, comprising a conductive pad overlays an air space, wherein at least a portion of the air space extends laterally beyond the conductive pad. See fig 1 . and its associated text of Kohl et al.

Kohl et al. appear to fail to teach that the conductive pad or lead directly overlays the air space.

Kohl et al. of "Air-Gap ... for interconnections" teach conductive pad or lead directly overlays the air space. See figs. 1 (a)-1 (c) and associated text.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art of making semiconductor devices to form the lead or pad directly over the air space in structure of Kohl et al. of "Wafer-Level Packaging Addresses ... Interconnections" to reduce intralevel dielectric constant. See figs. 1(a)-1(c) and associated text.

Art Unit: 2814

The combination of two Paul Kohl et al. references further teach that a major axis or an axis of the air space is radial to a center of the wafer level package. See fig. 1 of Kohl et al. "Water-Level Packaging Addresses... Interconnections".

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-6 and 21-28 are allowed.
